

Intensive Malay Language Program for Expats and their Families

Designed by Expats for Expats

This course has been designed by expat training professionals, who have been in the same situation as you. It is designed to be completely practical as well as simple and clear so you get the most out of your learning time.

Course Duration

We know your schedule is very busy and your time to dedicate to language learning is limited. That's why this 20-hour program is completely adaptable to your schedule and your family's personal circumstances.

We will do all we can to accommodate your schedule.

Training Overview

The overall objective of this language program is to provide an introduction to Malay for expats and help them achieve a working ability of the language in day to day use. A broad variety of vocabulary categories will be covered as well as a basic grasp of sentence structure, grammar and expression of ideas. Proper pronunciation and intonation will be highlighted.

Participants will learn how to manage conversations when interacting with friends and neighbours, eating out, shopping, working, travelling, and receiving medical care. This course is designed to inspire a continued desire to achieve fluency with follow up assignments.
